THE HALIGRIC YEARLY MEAL GUIDE

Regional Tetralty Alignment

Volume V: The Pacific Northwest

Bio-Regional Resilience for the Coastal Mist and Cascadia Rain

The Coastal Philosophy

The PNW Haligric Guide is calibrated for the specific metabolic demands of the Cascadia region. In an era of shifting global precipitation patterns, maintaining "internal warmth" against the persistent coastal mists and seasonal dampness is vital. This guide provide the circulatory support needed to prevent "Cold-Damp" stagnation in the body.

The Calendar Decoder

Schedules are organized by date groups (e.g., 1/8/15/22). These represent the Day of the Week (e.g., every Monday).

Logic: Consistency is the antidote to environmental stress. By repeating the same Tetralty every Monday for a month, you reduce cognitive load and allow your biological clock to align with the regional Cascadia rhythm.

The Tetralty Formula

Every day is a Tetralty: One Grain + One Green + One Protein + One Digestive Seal. This four-fold structure mirrors the four pillars of Haligricity — Thinking, Feeling, Doing and Being — ensuring cellular satiety, elemental balance and metabolic equilibrium without digestive fatigue. In the PNW, we prioritize damp-leaching grains like Barley and pungent aromatics to ensure the coastal moisture does not settle in the joints or the respiratory system.

The Seal is a small digestive finisher taken after lunch and dinner. It completes the six Vedic tastes and needs no cooking: a warm Digestive Brew (cumin, coriander, fennel, ginger and lemon) in the damp and spring months, a cooling brew or fresh fruit in peak heat, a Spiced Orchard Anchor of gently stewed fruit in late summer and autumn, and a Mineral Jing Truffle (a date filled with tahini or nuts) in deep winter. No refined sugar — sweetness comes only from fruit, dates and warm spices.

The Haligric Yearly Meal Guide

Volume 1: Spring Quarter • March: Pacific Northwest Edition

WEEKS 1-4: COASTAL COLD-DAMP SPRING ALIGNMENT

In the Pacific Northwest, March is characterized by 'Cold-Dampness' and heavy overcast. To maintain Haligricity here, we focus on Drying Dampness and Warming the Yang. We use bitter Rhubarb and pungent Leeks to move the stagnant Liver Qi, while utilizing mushrooms and sea vegetables to support the mineral-rich needs of a low- sunlight environment.

1. PNW Damp-Drainer: Barley, Mushrooms & Seitan

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Mushrooms (Green/Yellow) + Seitan (Protein) + CCF Brew (Cumin, Coriander & Fennel) (Seal)

1. Cook Barley. 2. Sauté PNW mushrooms (shiitake or oyster) with plenty of garlic and ginger. 3. Add seitan medallions. Barley is the premier grain for draining dampness, while mushrooms provide 'Wood' element energy to start the spring move.

2. Rhubarb & Ginger Warm Awakening

1. Simmer chopped rhubarb with ginger slices and a splash of water until it breaks down into a tart sauce. 2. Serve over warm rye porridge. Rhubarb's bitterness drains Liver fire, and rye's warming nature protects against the PNW chill.

The Haligric Yearly Meal Guide

Volume 1: Spring Quarter • April: Pacific Northwest Edition

WEEKS 5-8: MID-SPRING COASTAL DAMP ALIGNMENT

April in the PNW is the height of the 'Growing Pains' phase. While the Liver energy wants to explode upward, the lingering cold-damp air can create stagnation. To maintain Haligricity, we use bitter Rhubarb and Asparagus to drain excess dampness and move the Liver Qi, while keeping the digestive fire warm with Ginger and Rye.

1. PNW Spring Sauté: Asparagus & Seitan

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Asparagus (Green) + Seitan (Protein) + CCF Brew (Cumin, Coriander & Fennel) (Seal)

1. Cook Barley until tender. 2. Sauté seitan with garlic. 3. Add fresh PNW asparagus spears and cook until just tender. Barley remains our primary weapon against PNW dampness, while asparagus clears heat from the blood.

2. Pungent Radish & Liver-Moving Mash

The Tetralty: Wild Rice (Grain) + Radishes (Green/White) + Chickpeas (Protein) + Fennel & Mint Brew (Seal)

1. Sauté radishes and their greens. 2. Mash with chickpeas and a squeeze of lemon. The pungent property of the radish 'unblocks' the Liver Qi that often feels heavy in the rainy PNW spring.

Volume 1: Spring Quarter • May: Pacific Northwest Edition

WEEKS 9-12: LATE SPRING PNW LUSH PHASE

*May in the PNW is the 'Green Explosion.' While the energy is rising, the coastal humidity can cause it to become stagnant. To maintain Haligricity, we focus on Smoothing the Liver Qi and Draining Residual Dampness. 1. PNW Smoothing Tetralty: Snap Peas & Minted Seitan

1. Cook Barley. 2. Sauté seitan medallions. 3. Toss in fresh snap peas and a handful of fresh mint at the very end. The mint is a powerful 'Liver Qi smoother' for the damp coastal spring, while peas move the internal fluids.

2. Mint & Rhubarb Liver Purge

1. Simmer chopped rhubarb with fresh mint leaves and a splash of water. 2. Serve over warm rye or buckwheat. This combination clears the blood and ensures the 'Wood' element energy flows without obstruction during the long-daylight transition.

1. PNW Metal Tetralty: Cauliflower & Leek "Lung-Clearer"

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Cauliflower/Leeks (White) + Seitan (Protein) + Spiced Pear Anchor (Cinnamon & Cardamom) (Seal)

1. Sauté leeks and garlic until aromatic. 2. Add cauliflower florets and seitan medallions. 3. Serve over barley. Barley is essential here to drain the returning coastal dampness while the white 'Metal' vegetables support the Lungs.

2. Ginger-Pear "Mist" Protection

1. Stew fresh PNW pears with a thick slice of ginger and a dash of cinnamon. 2. Serve over warm amaranth or quinoa. In TCM, pears generate fluids to moisten the lungs, while ginger prevents those fluids from turning into phlegm in the damp PNW air.

1. Sauté mushrooms and daikon. 2. Serve over barley. This combination is the ultimate PNW defense against the returning rain, ensuring the body does not become 'heavy' or 'waterlogged'.

2. Miso Mushroom & White Bean "Rain Shield" Stew

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Mushrooms & Leeks (White) + White Beans (Protein) + Baked Cinnamon Pears (Seal)

1. Cook pearled barley. 2. Sauté sliced leeks, garlic and ginger, then add PNW mushrooms until browned. 3. Add white beans and stock; simmer 10 minutes. 4. Off the heat, stir in a spoon of soy-free white miso. 5. Serve over barley. Miso warms the interior while barley and mushrooms keep draining the season's damp.

November in the PNW is 'The Great Saturation.' As the rain becomes constant and the light fades, we focus on Expelling Cold-Damp and Fortifying the Kidney Yang. We use Kabocha squash to anchor the center and Pungent Garlic/Ginger to move the blood, ensuring the system doesn't become waterlogged before the Winter Solstice.

1. PNW Tetralty: Kabocha & Seitan "Yang-Fire"

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Kabocha Squash (Green/Yellow) + Seitan (Protein) + Spiced Pear Anchor (Cinnamon & Cardamom) (Seal)

1. Roast Kabocha with skin on (provides more Earth energy). 2. Sauté seitan with fresh ginger and black pepper. 3. Serve over barley. Kabocha is drier and starchier than butternut, making it superior for absorbing the excess dampness of a PNW November.

2. Blood-Moving Beet & Garlic Tetralty

The Tetralty: Rye (Grain) + Beets (Purple) + White Beans (Protein) + Baked Cinnamon Pears (Seal)

1. Sauté roasted beets with liberal amounts of garlic. 2. This combination moves the blood and prevents 'Cold- Stagnation' in the extremities, which is a common Haligricity failure during the coastal rains.

Volume 4: Winter Quarter • December: PNW (The Solstice Stillness)

WEEKS 37-40: EARLY WINTER COASTAL ALIGNMENT

December in the PNW is 'The Solstice Stillness.' As the darkness reaches its peak and the cold-damp air saturates the coast, we focus on Conserving the Kidney Essence and Warming the Blood. We use Black Beans to nourish the deep interior and Kelp to provide the essential minerals needed when sunlight is most scarce.

1. PNW Deep Winter Tetralty: Black Beans & Kelp

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Kale/Kelp (Green) + Black Beans (Protein) + Jing Truffle (Date & Tahini) (Seal)

1. Simmer black beans with kelp strips or flakes and ginger. 2. Sauté kale until soft. 3. Serve over barley. This combination provides the 'Salty' and 'Dark' properties required to support the Kidney energy during the PNW's darkest weeks.

2. PNW Mushroom & Ginger "Qi-Warmer"

The Tetralty: Rye (Grain) + Mushrooms (Brown/White) + Seitan (Protein) + Warm Golden Milk (Turmeric & Ginger) (Seal)

1. Sauté seitan and mushrooms with a high ratio of fresh ginger and black pepper. 2. Serve over rye. This 'Pungent' spell moves the blood and prevents the cold-damp from settling into the joints (Winter stagnation).

Volume 4: Winter Quarter • January: PNW (The Deep Saturation)

WEEKS 41-44: PEAK WINTER COASTAL ALIGNMENT

January in the PNW is 'The Deep Saturation.' While the Solstice has passed, the cold-dampness is at its most invasive, often settling into the joints. We focus on Fanning the Digestive Fire and Warming the Kidney Yang. We use Pungent Garlic and Ginger to repel the damp-chill and continue with Black Beans to anchor the deep essence.

1. PNW Winter Tetralty: The "Damp-Repeller"

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Cabbage (Green) + Black Beans (Protein) + Jing Truffle (Date & Tahini) (Seal)

1. Sauté cabbage with a high ratio of fresh ginger and black pepper. 2. Stir in cooked black beans. 3. Serve over barley. In the peak PNW winter, the ginger 'burns off' the external dampness while barley prevents it from settling internally.

2. Blood-Warming Rye & Ginger Breakfast

1. Cook rye flakes with fresh grated ginger. 2. Stir in frozen PNW berries (raspberries or blueberries) for a burst of antioxidants. Rye is the most warming of the grains, helping to push the blood to the extremities during the coastal chill.

Volume 4: Winter Quarter • February: PNW (The Awakening)

In the PNW, February is the 'Spring Pivot.' The drizzle remains, but the energetic shift is undeniable. This schedule completes the Water Phase and pivots toward Early Wood. These Trinities are designed to stir the Liver Qi and clear the 'Bone-Dampness' of the Cascadia winter, moving from the deep storage of winter into the upward momentum of spring.

1. The Damp-Repeller: Barley & Leeks

The Tetralty: Barley (Grain) + Leeks & Sprouts (Green) + Black Beans (Protein) + CCF Brew (Cumin, Coriander & Fennel) (Seal)

1. Cook pearled barley. 2. Slice leeks and sauté slowly with garlic and ginger until soft and sweet. 3. Add cooked black beans and warm through. 4. Toss with fresh sprouts and serve over barley. To ensure the final coastal winter rains don't settle into the joints, we use Barley as the anchor grain. Paired with pungent, warming Leeks, it moves the Qi through the lungs and liver, breaking up winter stagnation.

2. The Blood-Mover: Parsley & Lemon

The Tetralty: Wild Rice (Grain) + Garlic Spinach & Parsley (Green) + Seitan (Protein) + Fennel & Mint Brew (Seal)

1. Cook wild rice. 2. Sauté seitan medallions until golden. 3. Wilt spinach with plenty of garlic, then fold in a large handful of chopped fresh parsley. 4. Finish with a generous squeeze of lemon and serve over wild rice. Parsley acts as a blood-cleanser and Qi-mover, while the sourness of lemon helps the Liver Qi expand smoothly, shedding the heavy feeling of the long Northwest winter.
