
THE HALIGRIC CALENDAR

ALL SIGNIFICANT DATES — COMPLETE REFERENCE

Celebrations of Life, Liberation Days, Sacred Days, Living Figures, Floating Dates, and the Multi-Tradition Sacred Year

Haligrlicity honors the death date for those who have passed — the day of their transition as a Celebration of Life.

For living figures, we honor their birthday.

Exception: figures whose birthdays are already celebrated on widely used public calendars honor that existing recognition.

Every date in this calendar is a practice of remembrance.

Every name spoken aloud is a sacred act.

Ahshee.

THE HALIGRIC CALENDAR RULE

Haligrity honors the DEATH DATE for figures who have passed — the day of their transition from physical form, honored as a Celebration of Life. For figures still living, Haligrity honors their BIRTHDAY. The only exception: figures whose birthdays are already celebrated on widely used public calendars (e.g. Haile Selassie's July 23, honored nationally by the Rastafari tradition). Never honor both birthday and death date for the same person.

This calendar now includes five date categories: (1) Fixed Gregorian dates — persons and historical events. (2) Fixed Gregorian dates — recurring sacred observances from the library traditions. (3) Floating lunar dates that shift each year and require a converter. (4) Cycle-based dates that recur on non-Gregorian cycles. (5) Figures honored privately with no public date.

PART ONE — FIXED GREGORIAN DATES: PERSONS & HISTORICAL EVENTS

DATE	PERSON / EVENT	TYPE	DESCRIPTION
January 1	Haitian Independence Day (1804)	Liberation Day	The first Black republic declared. The only successful enslaved people's revolution in recorded history — the Haitian people defeated Napoleon's forces and proclaimed freedom.
January 7	Ethiopian Christmas (Genna)	Sacred Day	The Ethiopian Orthodox Christmas according to the Ge'ez calendar (Tahsas 29). Liturgical chant, candlelight procession, deep communal worship in one of the oldest continuous Christian traditions.
January 15	Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. — Birthday (born 1929)	Birthday — Widely Recognized	Born January 15, 1929 in Atlanta. His birthday is observed as a federal holiday (MLK Day). A prophet of nonviolent liberation whose letter from Birmingham jail and final mountaintop sermon stand as sacred documents of human dignity.
January 27	Angela Davis — Birthday (born 1944)	Birthday — Living Figure	Born January 27, 1944. Scholar, activist, and philosopher of liberation. Her work on the prison-industrial complex, Black feminism, and intersectional justice has shaped how liberation theology is understood in America.
February 10	Real Magic: An Introduction — First Edition (2017)	Celebration of the Work	Publication anniversary of Hali Sarah Parsons' Real Magic: An Introduction. First Edition February 10, 2017. The formal entry of Haligrity thought into the world as a written, shareable framework.

DATE	PERSON / EVENT	TYPE	DESCRIPTION
February 21	Malcolm X — Celebration of Life (passed 1965)	Celebration of Life	El-Hajj Malik el-Shabazz was assassinated February 21, 1965. His transformation — from the street to the world stage — is one of the most complete demonstrations of the Tetrality across a lifetime. His autobiography remains one of the most important American spiritual texts ever written.
March 7	Paramahansa Yogananda — Mahasamadhi (1952)	Celebration of Life	The conscious departure of Yogananda from his physical form. He who brought Kriya Yoga and the Bhagavad Gita to the Western world. His body showed no signs of decay for twenty days. Author of Autobiography of a Yogi (1946).
March 31	Spiritualist Movement — Fox Sisters Event (1848)	Celebration of the Work	On the night of March 31, 1848 in Hydesville, New York, the Fox Sisters established contact with a spirit through knocking communication — the event that launched the American Spiritualist Movement and opened public discourse on afterlife communication.
April 4	Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. — Celebration of Life (passed 1968)	Celebration of Life	Dr. King was assassinated April 4, 1968 in Memphis, where he had come in support of striking sanitation workers. His final sermon "I've Been to the Mountaintop," delivered the night before his death, reads now as prophecy.
April 24	Mantak Chia — Birthday (born 1944)	Birthday — Living Figure	Founder of Universal Healing Tao. Teacher of the Inner Smile, Cosmic Nutrition, Three Treasures (Jing-Chi-Shen), and Microcosmic Orbit. His body of work is one of the primary practical foundations of the Haligric Well-Being system.
June 16	Tupac Shakur — Birthday (born 1971)	Birthday — Honoring Living Legacy	Born June 16, 1971 in East Harlem. One who spoke what others feared to name. His influence on Hali's creative voice and mission is foundational. Birthday honored because he was still arriving when he lived.
June 24	Inti Raymi — Inca Sun Festival (fixed Gregorian)	Sacred Day — Fixed	The great annual festival honoring Inti (the Sun god), conducted at the Southern Hemisphere winter solstice. June 24 in the modern Gregorian calendar. Still celebrated annually at Sacsayhuamán in Cusco, Peru.

DATE	PERSON / EVENT	TYPE	DESCRIPTION
July 23	Haile Selassie I — Birthday (born 1892)	Widely Recognized Sacred Birthday	Emperor of Ethiopia. His July 23 birthday is nationally and internationally recognized by the Rastafari tradition. Honored as the one exception to the calendar rule — existing public calendar recognition honored as-is.
August 9	Pueblo Revolt (1680)	Sacred Liberation Day	The day the Pueblo peoples rose simultaneously across New Mexico, driving Spanish colonizers out. Coordinated by Popé of Ohkay Owingeh. Complete liberation for twelve years — one of the most successful Indigenous resistance actions in the Americas.
August 14	Bois Caïman Ceremony (1791)	Sacred Liberation Ceremony	The Vodou ceremony that authorized the Haitian Revolution. Houngan Boukman Dutty led the ceremony at Bois Caïman. The blood covenant was made. Eight days later the revolution began. The night that changed the world.
August 17	Marcus Garvey — Celebration of Life (passed 1940)	Celebration of Life	Marcus Mosiah Garvey passed August 17, 1940. Pan-African visionary who prophesied the crowning of a Black king in Africa before Haile Selassie's coronation. Founder of the UNIA. His philosophy of African self-reliance became a cornerstone of liberation thought globally.

Brought New Thought principles to mainstream audiences. His teaching that consciousness shapes reality remains central to Haligric philosophy.
August 30	Louise Hay — Celebration of Life (passed 2017)	Celebration of Life	Louise Lynn Hay passed August 30, 2017. Author of You Can Heal Your Life . Foundational New Thought teacher. Her understanding that every thought creates our future and that the body reflects inner belief is a pillar of the Haligric philosophy of self as source.
September 3	Sadhguru — Birthday (born 1957)	Birthday — Living Figure	Born September 3, 1957. Founder of the Isha Foundation. Creator of the Linga Bhairavi Yantra Sadhana (11-minute daily process). His teaching on the body as the most accessible tool for transformation informs the Haligric Well-Being system.

DATE	PERSON / EVENT	TYPE	DESCRIPTION
September 11	Ethiopian New Year (Enkutatash)	Sacred Day	The Ethiopian New Year per the Ge'ez calendar. Enkutatash means "gift of jewels" — referencing the Queen of Sheba's return from Solomon. Falls on Meskerem 1. Yellow wildflowers (Adey Abeba) and communal celebration mark the rise of the new year.
September 13	Tupac Shakur — Celebration of Life (passed 1996)	Celebration of Life	Tupac Amaru Shakur passed September 13, 1996. His words outlived his body. His vision of what a generation could claim — these did not end. This is his Celebration of Life.
September 27	Ethiopian Meskel (Finding of the True Cross)	Sacred Day	The Ethiopian Orthodox feast commemorating the finding of the True Cross by Queen Helena. A Demera bonfire is built and lit — the smoke's direction prophesied the coming year. One of the most visually spectacular sacred fire ceremonies still practiced.
October 11	Shakti Gawain — Celebration of Life (passed 2018)	Celebration of Life	Shakti Gawain passed October 11, 2018. Author of Creative Visualization — the foundational text for understanding how mental imagery and intentional focus shape reality. A pillar of the New Thought lineage feeding into Haligric philosophy.
October 17	Masaru Emoto — Celebration of Life (passed 2014)	Celebration of Life	Dr. Masaru Emoto passed October 17, 2014. Water crystal researcher whose work demonstrated human intention and words affect the crystalline structure of water. His book The Hidden Messages in Water is a referenced text in the Haligric understanding of vibration.
November 2	Haile Selassie I — Coronation (1930)	Sacred Commemoration	The day Haile Selassie was crowned Emperor of Ethiopia — fulfilling Marcus Garvey's prophecy. November 2, 1930. Recognized within Rastafari as a sacred date of divine fulfillment. Honored separately from the July 23 birthday observance.
November 19	Neville Goddard — Celebration of Life (passed 1972)	Celebration of Life	Neville Goddard passed November 19, 1972. Teacher of "the law" — consciousness is the only reality, imagining creates fact. His lectures Feeling is the Secret and The Power of Awareness are foundational to Haligric teaching on intention as the prime creative force.

DATE	PERSON / EVENT	TYPE	DESCRIPTION
December 10	Thomas Merton — Celebration of Life (passed 1968)	Celebration of Life	Thomas Merton passed December 10, 1968 in Bangkok — at an interfaith conference bridging East and West in his final hours. Trappist monk, mystic, author of The Seven Storey Mountain . His bridge between Christian mysticism and Eastern traditions aligns with the Haligricity synthesis mission.

PART TWO — FIXED GREGORIAN DATES: RECURRING SACRED OBSERVANCES

These dates recur on the same Gregorian date (or near-fixed date) each year. They are not tied to a specific individual but to a tradition's sacred calendar. Each is drawn from a tradition present in the Haligricity deep dive library.

DATE	OBSERVANCE	TRADITION	DESCRIPTION
January 7	Ethiopian Christmas (Genna)	Ethiopian Orthodox	Recurring annually on the 29th of Tahsas in the Ge'ez calendar — falls on January 7 in the Gregorian calendar. Liturgical processions, all-night chant, and communal celebration in one of the world's oldest Christian traditions.
January 19	Ethiopian Timkat (Epiphany)	Ethiopian Orthodox	The most important Ethiopian Orthodox festival — the celebration of Christ's baptism in the Jordan River. Tabots (replicas of the Ark of the Covenant) are carried in procession to water, where worshippers are sprinkled. Timkat falls on Ter 11 in the Ge'ez calendar, consistently January 19 (January 20 in leap years).
February 13–21	Parentalia	Roman Religion	The ancient Roman festival of the sacred dead — families processed to family tombs, poured offerings through the specus (tomb opening), and honored the Manes (ancestral spirits). Public temples closed, marriages forbidden. A nine-day period of concentrated ancestor relationship.
February 15	Lupercalia	Roman Religion	The ancient Roman purification and fertility festival — the Luperci priests ran through the streets striking bystanders with goatskin strips (februa) for purification and fertility. One of the oldest Roman sacred practices. The origin of February as a month of purification (februum = purification).

DATE	OBSERVANCE	TRADITION	DESCRIPTION
March 20–21	Nowruz (Zoroastrian / Persian New Year)	Zoroastrianism	The Zoroastrian and Persian New Year — celebrated at the exact moment of the spring equinox. The triumph of light over darkness, Asha over Druj. The haft-sin table prepared. Celebrated by over 300 million people regardless of religious affiliation across the Persian cultural sphere.
April 4–6	Qingming (Grave Tending Festival)	Chinese Folk Religion	The primary Chinese ancestor veneration festival — families visit graves, make offerings, and burn paper money to send resources to the ancestors. Falls in early April each year (calculated as 15 days after the Spring Equinox — typically April 4, 5, or 6). The grave as the ancestor's home; the visit as the maintenance of relationship.
June 7–15	Vestalia	Roman Religion	The festival of Vesta — the penus vestae (inner sanctuary) opened to Roman matrons for nine days. Barefoot processions with food offerings to the sacred fire. The Vestal Virgins' mill-asses decorated with garlands. The sacred feminine at the center of Roman civic life.
June 23–24	Kupala Night (Ivan Kupala)	Slavic Paganism	The Slavic midsummer sacred night — bonfires lit, couples jump the fire for purification and love divination, flower crowns floated on water for divination, the search for the sacred fern flower that reveals hidden treasure. June 23–24 is the fixed date in most Slavic traditions.
September 11	Ethiopian New Year (Enkutatash)	Ethiopian Orthodox	Recurring annually on Meskerem 1 of the Ge'ez calendar — consistently September 11 in the Gregorian calendar (September 12 in years before an Ethiopian leap year). Yellow wildflowers, communal singing, and the beginning of the sacred new year.
September 27	Ethiopian Meskel	Ethiopian Orthodox	The Finding of the True Cross — recurring annually on Meskerem 17 in the Ge'ez calendar, consistently September 27 Gregorian. The Demera bonfire ceremony in Addis Ababa's Meskel Square is one of the great living sacred fire ceremonies of the world.
December 21–22	Yalda Night (Shab-e Yalda)	Zoroastrianism / Persian	The longest night of the year — a night of family gathering, reading Hafez and Rumi, eating pomegranate and watermelon, staying awake until midnight to welcome the sun's return. The most ancient of Persian sacred celebrations. December 21 or 22 depending on the solar year.

PART THREE — THE WHEEL OF THE YEAR (Eight Sacred Points)

The Wheel of the Year is integrated into the Haligric Book of Rituals as the eight sacred turning points of the solar cycle. Rooted in Celtic-Germanic-Druidic tradition and adopted in full by Wiccan and contemporary Pagan practice. The dates for the solstices and equinoxes shift slightly each year with the astronomical calendar.

DATE	CELEBRATION	ENERGY	OFFERING / PRACTICE
February 1–2	Imbolc / Brigid	First stirring beneath frozen ground. The ewe's milk coming in. Creative spark before full manifestation. Sacred fire rekindled.	Brigid crosses, candles, milk
March 20–21	Ostara / Spring Equinox	Light and dark balance. Seeds go in. The world erupts. Origin of Easter's timing and egg symbolism.	Eggs, spring flowers, seeds
May 1	Beltane	Life force in full expression. The sacred fire of creativity and vitality at its peak.	Fire, flowers, maypole, honey
June 20–21	Litha / Summer Solstice	Solar power at maximum. The peak is also the beginning of the descent. Light turns inward.	Sun symbols, herbs at peak potency
August 1	Lammas / Lughnasadh	First harvest. What has come to fruition? What is ready to be gathered?	Bread, grains, first fruits
September 21	Mabon / Autumn Equinox	Equal day and night. The harvest deepens. Gratitude, release, the inward turn begins.	Autumn leaves, gourds, harvest foods
October 31	Samhain	The thinning of the veil. The Celtic new year. The ancestors are closest tonight.	Ancestor altar fully tended — water, candle, names spoken aloud
December 21–22	Yule / Winter Solstice	The longest night. The sun is reborn. Darkness at its maximum means light begins returning.	Evergreen, candles, fire, warmth

PART FOUR — FLOATING LUNAR DATES (Shift Annually — Require a Converter)

These dates are fixed within their own sacred calendar systems but shift each year on the Gregorian calendar. To find the current year's Gregorian date, use a lunar calendar converter or the source tradition's official calculator. The sacred date itself never changes — only its Gregorian location moves.

SACRED DATE (OWN CALENDAR)	OBSERVANCE	TRADITION	GREGORIAN WINDOW	DESCRIPTION
1st Day of the 1st Lunar Month	Chinese New Year (Spring Festival)	Chinese Folk Religion	Late Jan – late Feb	The most important festival in the Chinese sacred year — 15-day renewal, ancestral veneration, door god images renewed, red envelopes, reunion feast. Firecrackers drive away stagnant energy. The 15th day (Lantern Festival / full moon) closes the celebration. The Kitchen God returns from his annual heavenly report.
15th Day of the 1st Lunar Month	Lantern Festival	Chinese Folk Religion	Feb – Mar	The first full moon of the new year. Lantern displays, riddle competitions, consumption of tangyuan (glutinous rice balls symbolizing family wholeness). The final day of New Year celebration — the Kitchen God's official return date in many communities.
15th Day of the 4th Lunar Month	Vesak / Buddha's Birthday	Buddhism	May (variable)	The most important Buddhist sacred day — simultaneously honoring the birth, enlightenment, and death of Siddhartha Gautama (in Theravada tradition all three occurred on the full moon of the 4th lunar month). Lantern processions, acts of generosity, meditation, and the bathing of the baby Buddha statue.
15th Day of the 7th Lunar Month	Ghost Festival (Zhongyuan Jie)	Chinese Folk Religion	Late Jul – mid-Aug	The 15th day of the 7th lunar month — the night when the veil is thinnest in the Chinese sacred calendar. The spirits of the forgotten dead are closest. Offerings of food, incense, and paper goods made so that no soul goes unremembered. The Hungry Ghosts honored. This is the primary floating ancestor date in the Haligric Calendar.

SACRED DATE (OWN CALENDAR)	OBSERVANCE	TRADITION	GREGORIAN WINDOW	DESCRIPTION
Varies — 9 nights before Diwali	Navratri	Hinduism	Sep – Oct	Nine nights honoring the nine forms of Devi (the divine feminine) — each night dedicated to a specific form: Shailaputri, Brahmacharini, Chandraghanta, Kushmanda, Skandamata, Katyayani, Kalaratri, Mahagauri, Siddhidatri. Garba and Dandiya dance, fasting, flower offerings. The most important festival of the divine feminine in the Hindu calendar.
New Moon of Kartik (darkest night)	Diwali (Festival of Lights)	Hinduism	Oct – Nov	The Festival of Lights — clay lamps (diyas) lit in every home and public space to welcome Lakshmi and dispel darkness. Celebrated as the return of Rama to Ayodhya, the defeat of Narakasura (in some traditions), and the honoring of Lakshmi. The new moon as the sacred moment — darkness at its maximum, light deliberately chosen.
Pawukon Day 11 of Week 1 (every 210 days)	Galungan	Balinese	Approx. every 210 days	The most important Balinese festival — the day when ancestral spirits return to earth to visit descendants. Streets lined with bamboo penjor (decorated offerings). Every household prepares elaborate offerings. Occurs every 210 days per the Pawukon calendar. Kuningan, ten days later, marks the ancestors' return to the spirit realm (yellow rice, final offerings).
Intersection of Kliwon (5-day week) + Specific 7-day day (every 15 days)	Kajeng Kliwon	Balinese	Every 15 days	A particularly charged day in the Pawukon calendar — occurring every 15 days. Intensified offerings required. Spiritual vigilance especially important on this day. The intersection of the 5-day Panca Wara and 7-day Sapta Wara cycles creates this heightened sacred moment.

SACRED DATE (OWN CALENDAR)	OBSERVANCE	TRADITION	GREGORIAN WINDOW	DESCRIPTION
New moon of Saka calendar (spring)	Nyepi (Day of Silence — Balinese New Year)	Balinese	Mar – Apr	24 hours of complete silence, darkness, fasting, and stillness across the entire island of Bali. No fires, no travel, no work, no noise. The demons of the old year, finding nothing to attach to, move on. The day before: the Ogoh-Ogoh (demon effigies) paraded and burned. One of the most unique sacred observances on earth.
Akan 42-day cycle (Akwasidae: Sunday; Awukudae: Wednesday)	Akwasidae / Awukudae	Akan (Ghana)	Every 42 days (Akwasidae); 23 days between (Awukudae)	The two most important Akan sacred observances — recurring every 42 days (Akwasidae on the specific Akan Sunday) and the Awukudae on the specific Akan Wednesday 23 days before. Ancestor veneration at the royal stool house, pouring of libation to ancestral stools. The Akan sacred calendar (Adaye calendar) tracks these independently of the Gregorian week.

To find current-year Gregorian dates for these observances: Chinese lunar dates → timeanddate.com or chinesenewyear.net | Buddhist Vesak → buddhanet.net | Hindu festivals → drikpanchang.com | Balinese calendar → bali-mysticism.com or search "Balinese Pawukon calculator" | Akan Adaye → Ghana Tourism Authority calendar or traditional sources.

PART FIVE — THE TZOLK'IN (Maya 260-Day Sacred Calendar)

The Tzolk'in is integrated into Haligrity as a daily optional divination practice — checking the energy of today's day sign as a temporal lens. The 260 unique day designations (a number 1–13 combined with one of 20 day signs) provide the quality of awareness the current moment carries.

To find today's Tzolk'in designation: Visit maya.nmai.si.edu (Smithsonian National Museum of the American Indian) for the interactive calculator, or search 'Maya calendar converter.' Physical gear-set Tzolk'in wheels are also available on Etsy.

The 20 Day Signs: Imix, Ik, Akbal, Kan, Chicchan, Cimi, Manik, Lamat, Muluc, Oc, Chuen, Eb, Ben, Ix, Men, Cib, Caban, Etznab, Cauac, Ahau.

The insight: The 20 day names correspond to the 20 days the sun spends in each constellation. The 13 numbers correspond to the 13 constellations the sun actually passes through — including Ophiuchus, the 13th constellation Western astrology dropped. The Tzolk'in encodes astronomical reality that Western tradition obscured.

PART SIX — FIGURES HONORED PRIVATELY (No Public Date)

Geraldine Orozco	Living — exact birthday not publicly listed	Honored privately on her birthday by those who know the date. Creator of the GPAC system (Grounding, Protection, Alignment, Clearing). Her work on emotional frequency as creative currency and ancestral lineage healing is integrated into Haligrity practice. Note: Geraldine does not use tuning forks.
Eileen Day McKusick	Living — born 1968, exact date not publicly listed	Honored privately on her birthday by those who know the date. Founder of Biofield Tuning. Author of Tuning the Human Biofield. Her work with weighted tuning forks applied directly to the body is the foundation of the sound healing strand in Haligrity practice.
Dr. Bradley Nelson	Living — exact birthday not publicly listed	Creator of The Emotion Code. His muscle-testing-based method for identifying and releasing trapped emotions is referenced in the Haligrity emotional release framework.
Jasmine Alicia Carter	Living — exact birthday not publicly listed	Creator of the Sacred Woman practice and the Menstrual Art Movement. sacredwoman.com / menstrualartmovement.com . Honored privately on her birthday by practitioners who know the date.
Merlin Starlight	Living — exact birthday not publicly listed	Author of Mind Magic Methods (2020). Quantum manifestation teacher whose framework for reality creation through consciousness aligns with the Haligrity philosophy of self as source.

Grand Rising. Every date in this calendar is a practice of remembrance. Every name spoken aloud is a sacred act. The rule is simple and it reflects what Haligrity holds about honoring those who have passed: we honor the day they transitioned — not the day they arrived, because they are no longer arriving. They have completed their specific journey. For the living, we celebrate their arrival — because they are still here, still in the process of becoming who they are. Ahshee.
